

Nur Ali charges back to A1 Grand Prix!!!

Nur Ali's two victories in a row in the Southwest Formula Regional Series seemed too much for the management of A1 Grand Prix Team Pakistan to resist. They have asked Nur Ali to come back and drive Team Pakistan to victory.

Nur Ali, 31, is widely considered the most successful, talented and fastest South Asian Race car driver in the world. He won the Southwest Formula Regional Series Championship two years in a row with a thrilling exhibition of iron will and calculated risk. He joins A1 Team Pakistan after a season of racing in the Star Mazda North American Championship Series, and driving in the Southwest Formula Mazda Series, in which he celebrated two victories, four podium finishes and three pole positions this year. He has also launched the Nur Ali Motorsports Academy and Motorsport Pakistan ventures, two new initiatives which have been created to establish a motorsport development programme in the country.

Ali says of joining the team, "it was only yesterday that I jumped on a plane from the USA, went straight to the track and jumped into a race suit for seat fittings and practice this afternoon. I'm hoping to be shaking down the car and learning the circuit today, and then we can move on to developing its performance over the course of the weekend. I'm very excited to be driving for A1 Team Pakistan in this first race at Zandvoort, near Amsterdam. I'm very pleased to be representing my country, and putting something back into the sport to benefit Pakistan."

"I want everyone to know that I came back to Team Pakistan for my people, my family and my country. I intend to drive this Team to victory Pakistan Zindabad!!!"

A1 Grand Prix is the World Cup of Motorsport with 12 races held at international venues across five continents. Performance is determined by human bravery, skill and excellence. This season the Series expands to 12 events and Nur Ali and Team Pakistan will compete in world class cities such as Beijing, Mexico City, and in countries including New Zealand and Brazil.
