

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Team Stange Racing, Inc. Will Compete in the 2012 Star Mazda Championship Series Presented by Goodyear.

December 15, 2011, Chicago, Illinois U.S.A.: Team Stange Racing, Inc. announced today its plans to compete full time in the Star Mazda Championship Series Presented by Goodyear in 2012. Team Stange Racing is not prepared to announce its Sponsorship or Driver Package at this time but says it hopes to announce a full 3 car program by the first of the New Year, Team Owner John Stange said in a brief announcement today.

"We want drivers and sponsors with last minute budgets to know that we are out here and that we have a very unique opportunity at this time with our current list of partners and sponsors including a Major Media Brand that could help any sponsor advertise to a broad range of Households in the United States as well as a very strong Engineering program along with Mechanics that have come from Champ Car and Indy Car including Indy 500 wins"., stated Team Owner John Stange.

"This also does not hurt any driver looking to get to the next level and needs his or her "Brand" to be taken to a more professional place not only on the performance side but in the marketing and branding side as well." stated John Stange.

"We are a team that is going to contend for the championship and win races as well as creating an image for our drivers that will make them look bigger and better than they ever imagined, making their move up to the higher level of racing more appealing for an Indy Lights or Indy Car Team, stated John Stange. "There are so many options and partnerships that I can not publicly announce at this time that any driver looking to advance their career needs to hear", also stated Stange.
